

54TH ANNUAL IRON COUNTY BAND CAMP CONCERT

SIDE BY SIDE

“Side by Side” is what we musicians call it when young musicians sit beside older musicians. The younger musicians have the chance to experience playing at a level they might not ordinarily get when only with their peers. The older musicians get a chance to impart the experiences they’ve had and the maturity they’ve gained from more “years in the saddle.”

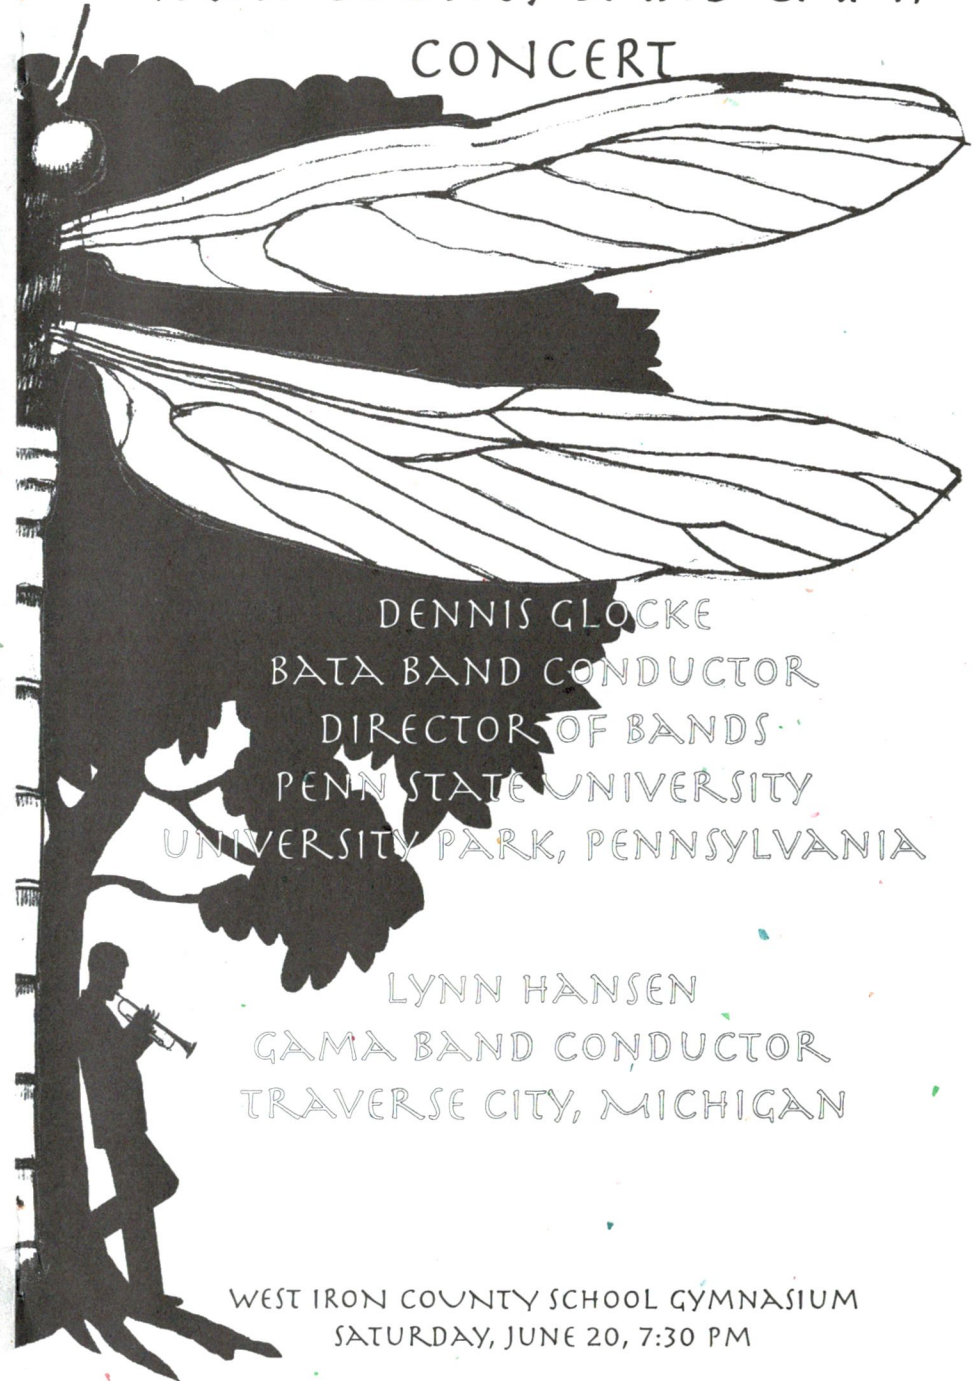

Some of the music campers here have told me that one of the experiences they like the best at Batawagama is the chance for the Bata and Gama bands to play side-by-side. In the ten (yes 10!) years I’ve been coming to Batawagama, the side-by-side experience has always been a composition I’ve written for them. It’s also been one of my favorite experiences at Batawagama.

This year, I wanted to write a piece that, besides playing it side-by-side, each band could have fun in their own rehearsals playing the piece on their own. I also set out to write a piece that every one of the 20+ percussionists could play at the same time. So many times in years past, some of the percussionists have not been able to play the side-by-side experience.

So, my new piece sets out to celebrate the Batawagama experience: all music campers get the chance to play together in a work written especially for them, hence, the name “Side by Side.”

The organization of “Side by Side” is quite simple. A seven bar harmonic progression in g-minor dominates the work. Three different themes are juxtaposed in a modular way over this g-minor harmonic-progression. To break things up, a contrasting E-flat section appears four times with four different themes. Near the end, all three themes appear at the same time over the g-minor progression and the piece ends with the same opening fanfare that started the work.
